RESOLUTION

Expressing grave concern about the continuing escalation in violence between Israel and the Palestinians.

Whereas recent violence in Israel and the Palestinian territories has claimed at least 1,900 lives, including more than 1,450 Palestinians and 450 Israelis, since September 2000;

Whereas suicide bombings have become increasingly frequent and have claimed the lives of dozens of innocent Israeli civilians;

Whereas the Israeli military campaign against the Palestinian Authority, and incursions into Palestinian cities, have resulted in a significant number of civilian deaths;

Whereas on April 4, 2002, President Bush called for “Israel to halt incursions into Palestinian-controlled areas and begin the withdrawal from those cities it has recently occupied” and an end to suicide bombings;

Whereas various parties, including the President of the United States, the European Union, Saudi Arabia and the Arab League, and the Mitchell Commission have proposed potential paths toward peace, including recognition of Israel’s right to exist, guaranteeing Israeli security within its 1967 borders, creation of a viable Palestinian state, halting Jewish settlements in Palestinian territories, and negotiations to determine the final status of Jerusalem and refugees;

Whereas sustained, high-level diplomatic engagement by the United States is crucial in bringing the Israelis and Palestinians back to the negotiating table and ensuring parallel goals of peace and security; and

Whereas there are hundreds of civilians from many countries, including the United States, who are serving selflessly and risking their own lives as human rights observers and aid workers in an increasingly dangerous situation in the region: Now, therefore, be it

- 1       Resolved, That the House of Representatives—
- 2               (1) strongly supports United Nations Security
- 3       Council Resolution 1397, which was unanimously
- 4       approved by the United States and other members
- 5       of the Security Council, with Syria abstaining, that
- 6       calls for an immediate cessation of all acts of vio-
- 7       lence between Israel and the Palestinians;

1           (2) strongly supports United Nations Security
2       Council Resolution 1402, which was unanimously
3       approved by the United States and other members
4       of the Security Council, with Syria abstaining, that
5       calls for a meaningful cease-fire and withdrawal of
6       Israeli troops from Palestinian cities;

7           (3) unequivocally condemns acts of violence
8       against both Israeli and Palestinian civilians;

9           (4) urges all parties to recognize that continued
10      military attacks and terrorist activities will only lead
11      to escalating violence and the potential destabiliza-
12      tion of the Middle East and neighboring regions;

13          (5) urges all parties to stop using state-con-
14      trolled media or other means of propaganda to incite
15      hatred and violence; and

16          (6) urges all parties immediately to ensure the 17      safety of international human rights observers and 18      aid workers in Israel and the Palestinian territories.
